

him of not guilty, and pleaded guilty to the offense as charged in the indictment. Frederick Zingales, a third person named in that indictment, did not respond when his name was called, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Lawyer McClellan appeared as counsel.

Lawyer Astoria was the Republican candidate for the county clerk. He took the oath in the court in which he had received two less votes than he was entitled to, the count showing 28, when forty declared they had voted for him.

Rooney and McKenna declared they were innocent of any intention to violate the law.

Justice Barrett said that while he would take into consideration the plea which they had made, and the fact that they had thrown themselves on the mercy of the court, he could not overlook the fact that they were fully as guilty as others who had been convicted of the same crime and sentenced to a long term of imprisonment.

"The sentence of the court is," said Justice Barrett, "that each of you pay a fine of $250."

"Hully gee, that's a scorchin'," ejaculated Rooney, "Denials after Brown took them around to the prisoners' pen."

In the case of Charles J. Burke, inspector in the Twenty-sixth district, indicted for the Twenty-sixth district, the indictment charging him with neglect of duty, the jury found that there was not sufficient evidence in the case to go to the jury.

Thomas McMahon, whose bail was forfeited last Friday, was taken into court just after the noon hour by his bondsmen. John McDermott, who had been indicted for administering a false oath as inspector in the Twenty-sixth district, was also taken into court. The jury found that there was not sufficient evidence in the case to go to the jury.

McMahon was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary, Justice Barrett saying that he would be lenient to him, as he was not the chairman of the Board in his district. The judgment against McDermott was for $500.

Asher Bernstein was not in court when his name was called. He was indicted for perjury in swearing that he was blind, so as to get assistance in voting. The indictment against him will be dismissed as soon as he files a certificate from Dr. Knapp, who is said to have treated him in his eyes. His lawyer, J. C. O'Connor, said that this certificate would be filed to-morrow.

This finished up all the cases on the calendar, and Justice Barrett, before adjourning court, dismissed the jury, thanking them for their long service and telling them that they had performed their duty well and had accomplished a great public benefit.

NEW WHITE HOUSE CRANK.

He Comes to Take Charge, He Says, for the Third Party.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The periodical crank turned up at the White House again this morning, and, taking advantage of the President's absence, sought to relieve him of the cares of the State.

At 6 o'clock, an hour before the White House is opened to the public, a wild-eyed, bearded man, about 50 years of age, appeared at the entrance and told the watchman that he had come to take charge of the White House. He said he had had a revelation from God, and had been directed to come here and take charge of the White House. The watchman, who was not in the habit of admitting such persons, refused to let him in. The man, who was very violent, threatened to force his way in, but was held back by the watchman. The man was then taken to the police station, where he was held until the morning.

TARIFF BILL NOT READY.

Not Probable that It Will Go to the Full Committee To-morrow.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Several Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee have expressed the hope that the tariff bill might be reported to the full committee to-morrow, but this is not probable.

One of the Senators who was prominent in the caucus says that the bill which will be reported to the committee will be much more satisfactory to the Senators than the bill which was reported to the committee last week.

Assistant Secretary Hamlin of the Treasury department, and Interior Secretary Miller, were called to the committee this morning. They were called to give information concerning the bill, and the committee will be held in session until 10 o'clock.

Several pages being entirely rewritten, Commissioner Miller also gave information concerning the bill, and the committee will be held in session until 10 o'clock.

"ROWDY DOW" GOT A PRIZE.

Creditor Walters is Now After Owner Wright.

Charles L. Wright, whose photograph studio is in Fourteenth street, may have cause to regret that he exhibited his three English setters and two English pointers at the recent dog show in Madison Square Garden.

The fact that his magnificent setter, Rowdy Dow, got second prize attracted the creditors' attention to the fact that he owned five dogs valued at $1,000.

Lawyer Oppenheimer, of Park row, made an application to Justice Fitzgibbon in City Court, Charleston, to have Wright declared the legal owner of the dogs and have them turned over to him. Wright, who is a well-known engineer, with offices in Vandam street, was not in court.

Walters has a judgment against Wright for $25 for work done for him.

When Wright was examined in supplemental proceedings he testified he did not know who composed the firm Charles L. Wright & Co., although he signed the checks. He also swore he had no bank account, and had deposited money in the Nassau Bank since 1890.

The lawyer has asked the Court to look at this testimony.

John Hanson Discharged.

John Hanson, of 10 West Fourth street, was arraigned in East Market court this morning charged with intoxication. He was arrested on Thursday night while staggering along the sidewalk. He was taken to the police station, where he was held until the morning.

When Hanson was examined in supplemental proceedings he testified he did not know who composed the firm Charles L. Wright & Co., although he signed the checks. He also swore he had no bank account, and had deposited money in the Nassau Bank since 1890.

Struck by 200 Pounds of Iron.

Frank Mason, of 240 Henderson street, Jersey City, while employed in unloading the steamship Alaska at the foot of West street, was struck by a piece of iron weighing about 200 pounds. He received internal injuries, and was removed to St. Francis Hospital. His condition is critical.

Stoned the Policeman.

One hundred and thirty-three street, and James Holling, aged thirty-three, of 222 East Third street, and Thomas J. Smith, aged thirty-three, of 222 East Third street, were arrested before Justice Higgins in the Harlem Police Court this morning. They were charged with stoning a policeman. The policeman was injured, and was removed to St. Francis Hospital. The condition is critical.

Wire News in Brief.

Judge R. B. Hoyt, who during the war was a Commissioner of the Confederate States at Atlanta, died last evening.

The western mills at Oregon City, Ore., engaged 200 men, started up this morning after being closed six weeks.

The Erie Railroad operator for the Fremont, Elgin and Mississippi Valley Railroad, at Italy Ridge, Neb., was shot and killed by some upland game yesterday.

The Congressional Church of South Madison, Mass., which cost $25,000, was entirely destroyed by fire last evening.

NOT AFTER TAMMANY HALL.

Independents Want All the City Departments Investigated.

"Evening World" Exposures Embodied in Their Charges.

The Provisional Executive Committee of the Independent County Organization will meet at the Union Square Hotel this evening. Among other matters to be discussed will be the memorial sent by the Organization's Committee on Legislation to the Legislature, asking that abuses in the various city departments be investigated.

The memorial, which is signed by John D. Townsend, William A. Gans, Joseph A. Steiner, John P. Smith and Ernest Hervey, calls special attention to the fact that the Provisional Executive Committee of the Independent County Organization has been charged with the management of the city departments, and that it has been charged with the management of the city departments, and that it has been charged with the management of the city departments.

GRAND JURY INVESTIGATE.

Donnelly's Jurors to Be Called Before That Body.

One of Them Visits the District-Attorney's Office.

Assistant District-Attorney McIntyre announced this morning that the Grand Jury would be asked this week to investigate the conduct of the jury that convicted James Donnelly of manslaughter on Friday.

The investigation will be based upon reports that an attempt was made to tamper with witnesses and one or more of the jurors.

Shortly after Mr. McIntyre made this statement, John W. Hamman, of 129 East Fifth street, who occupied the fourth seat in the jury box, called at the District-Attorney's office and told Mr. McIntyre that he wanted to throw some light on the rumors of jury tampering.

According to Mr. Hamman it appears that some of the jurors did not know that there was a side judge in a capital case. Mr. Foster proposed to take a "fall" out of Juror James Tyrrell for his stubbornness in holding out, and Foreman George Crawford, of 222 West Twenty-third street, danced a clog.

Mr. Hamman was one of the jurors who held out for an acquittal. Tyrrell was the other man who refused to concur in the verdict. The side judge, who was named by the defense, was named by the defense, and was named by the defense.

Hamman says that a day or two before the defense closed he saw two priests talking to Juror Tyrrell. The priests said he had been told, of Brooklyn, and Father McKenna, of Woodbury, L. I.

While he was conversing with Tyrrell, they were joined by Felix Donnelly, a cousin of the prisoner, and prosecutor of the saloon in which he was employed.

Hamman says the first ball stood five for manslaughter, four for murder in the first degree, and two for acquittal.

On the second ballot the murder men went over to the manslaughter side and Tyrrell still stood for acquittal. After debating for six hours he was finally won over and a verdict of manslaughter rendered.

The other jurors will be summoned to file their affidavits, and then the whole matter will be officially submitted to the Grand Jury, who will decide whether or not they should have to take his statement before the Grand Jury.

MRS. FIELD REFUSED.

Vain Appeal for Her Husband's Release from Jail.

Justice Patterson, of the Supreme Court, to-day denied the motion of Mrs. Clara M. Field for the release of her husband, Edward M. Field, from the Ludlow Street Jail, where he is confined upon an order of arrest issued on a judgment in favor of Dentist Charles Nette.

The judgment was for $1,350, and was rendered in December. No steps were taken by judgment creditor against Field's estate until after his arrest.

Justice Patterson held that Field's relatives could have moved long ago for his release, and that he had been declared insolvent in an uncontested case. Justice Patterson held that they were entitled to a discharge.

Regarding the judgment, Justice Patterson vacating another order of arrest made Field on other claims, and Justice Patterson said he had talked with the latter decision, and was informed that the latter decision was largely due to the fact that the motion was practically not opposed.

WHO IS EDWARD DROUIN?

He is Dazzling Atlantic City with a Great Display of Wealth.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 5.—Edward Drouin, of Philadelphia, who is at present occupying a handsome cottage on South Illinois avenue, opposite the Traymore, and who has for several weeks past been emulating the example of the Monte Cristo in extravagance and elaborate use of money, has done nothing new to-day.

This far he has bought a livery stable, a newspaper, tried to buy a bank, placed $5,000 under his own name, and tempted small boys to extract the same. He has also bought a new suit, and has had his hair cut, and has had his hair cut, and has had his hair cut.

Some of the people of Atlantic City are saying that his supposed wealth, which he spends at the rate of $10,000 a week, is a fraud. Others, and it may be said the latter, are saying that he is a fraud.

Drouin's wife, who accompanies him, is a woman of the people here, and is a woman of the people here, and is a woman of the people here.

He is said to be a man of the people here, and is a man of the people here, and is a man of the people here.

YACHT NATALIE WATCHED.

A Haytian Gunboat Lying Near-By off Fortunate Island.

A gentleman who arrived in this city on the steamer Alone, from Kingston, says that on Feb. 28 last the yacht Natalie, was still anchored off Fortunate Island, and that a Haytian gunboat was in close proximity.

It is his opinion that the gunboat was there to watch the yacht, and that the yacht was there to watch the gunboat.

The yacht Natalie was built in 1880, and is a fine vessel. She is owned by a man named Natalie, and is named after him.

MRS. SALTER GIVES BAIL.

Arrested in Newark on the Charge of Swindling.

NEWARK, N. J., March 5.—Mrs. Ella D. Salter, who was arrested for swindling, was released this morning by Justice Killeen on $1,000 bail to wait the action of the Grand Jury. Mrs. Salter was arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Amelia Hall, of 5 Linden street, who says she was swindled out of $1,000 by her.

Mrs. Salter is alleged to have been a woman of the people here, and is a woman of the people here, and is a woman of the people here.

HE HAD NO EVIDENCE.

Certificate from a Doctor in a Case of Alleged Assault.

The case of Samuel Rutherford, the Superintendent of a West Twenty-third street dry goods store, who is charged with assault by Isabella Henry, aged fourteen, was adjourned until to-morrow in the Jefferson Market Police Court.

Dr. Rutherford was charged with assault on Henry, who is a girl of fourteen years of age. The case was adjourned until to-morrow.

NEW JERSEY.

Justice Magie's Term Expires and No Successor Is Named.

Argument on the Jersey Deadlock Adjourned Until Thursday.

TRENTON, N. J., March 5.—Argument on the Jersey deadlock, which was instituted by Gov. Worre, to determine which is the legal Senate of New Jersey, was to have been begun before the entire Bench of the Supreme Court this morning.

On motion of Thomas N. McCarter, one of the counsel for President Maurice A. Rogers, of the Republican Senate, the argument was postponed until Thursday morning.

Mr. McCarter said that such a short time for argument and a long delay of the testimony of the counsel had not sufficient time to prepare arguments, and that the delay was caused by the failure of the printers to have the briefs in court.

Mr. McCarter was one of the jurors who held out for an acquittal. Tyrrell was the other man who refused to concur in the verdict. The side judge, who was named by the defense, was named by the defense, and was named by the defense.

ONE DEAD, ONE DYING.

Two Pennsylvania Railroad Brakemen Fatally Injured.

NEWARK, N. J., March 5.—John Woerner, of 764 West Third-seventh street, Philadelphia, a brakeman, was riding on top of an east-bound freight train this morning when he was struck by the water-tank at Waverly and hurled to the ground. A passenger train which came along a few minutes after wards brought Woerner to this city and he was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died.

Woerner's right arm was crushed and his leg was broken. He died at 10 o'clock.

Elizabeth N. N. March 5.—Patrick Killeen, of 177 West Third street, Newark, a brakeman, was riding on top of an east-bound freight train this morning when he was struck by the water-tank at Waverly and hurled to the ground. A passenger train which came along a few minutes after wards brought Killeen to this city and he was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he is dying.

DOCK COMPANY LOSES.

Decision in a New Jersey Suit Against a Railroad.

NEWARK, N. J., March 5.—Vice-Chancellor Van Fleet, in a decision rendered in the long-contested suit of the National Docks Junction Company against the Pennsylvania Railroad. The action is an application made by the National Docks Junction Company for an order allowing it to take possession of lands and to construct a tunnel under the Pennsylvania Railroad. The court has decided in favor of the National Docks Junction Company.

DIAS DISCHARGED.

He Said He Did Not Know He Received "Wrapper" Tobacco.

Andreas Diaz, a wholesale importer of tobacco, who was arrested about a week ago on the charge of violating the Customs law, was discharged by United States Commissioner Shields this morning.

Diaz, who is charged, received twenty-three boxes of tobacco from Havana, Cuba, which were involved as "wrapper" tobacco, whereas an examination by the Federal agents revealed that six of the boxes contained "wrapper" tobacco. Diaz said he did not know he received "wrapper" tobacco.

Saloon-Keeper Rats' Pockets Rifled While He Slept.

Georgie Rats, a saloon-keeper, at Sixty-first street and Western Boulevard, made a complaint of grand larceny at the Yorkville Police Court to-day against William Froehlich, of 663 Amsterdam avenue, and William Elling, of 62 Amsterdam avenue.

Rats said he had asleep in the parlor of his saloon yesterday, and when he awoke he discovered that $213 had been taken from his pocket. He learned from his son that the two prisoners had taken the money. Rats said he had no other witnesses, and the case was held for further examination.

BAD FOR THE DUDES.

Storekeeper of the Lucania Arrested as a Smuggler.

London-Alma Clothes Brought Over in Big Lots.

Storekeeper John Jones, of the steamer Lucania, was arrested this morning by United States Inspectors J. J. Donovan and Thomas Brown. Jones was charged with smuggling between thirty and forty suits of clothing. He was taken before United States Commissioner Shields and held in $1,000 bail to appear at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

Jones has been employed on the Lucania and other steamers of the Cunard line for the last twelve years.

Inspector Donovan said "Smugglers have been going through the large cities of the country for some time, taking orders for London-made clothes. In most cases these clothes are sold at low prices because they have been smuggled. In all we know of some 300 such orders have been given. A day that we have caught Jones probably the remainder of the clothes will be shipped through the regular channels."

"Do you think Jones had any accomplices?" "I questionably he did; but just at present we can't say who they are. The clothes Jones brought over are all consigned to individuals in New York, Boston, Brooklyn, Orange and neighboring places. The goods are sold through a regular agency for the business in Boston, and smuggling has been going on for some time."

TURNED IN A FALSE ALARM.

Alleged Pickpockets Work a Neat Scheme to Collect a Crowd.

Thomas Trainor, aged twenty-one, of 286 Greenwich street, and James Trainor, aged twenty-two, of 44 Greenwich street, were arrested this morning, charged with turning in a false alarm from fire box No. 103, at Hudson and Canal streets.

A Mr. C. W. Stone, of Kane, Pa., who addressed a letter to New York City, told him that the Trainors and a third man had given a false alarm. The three men were still standing before the fire box when the alarm was given. They were arrested by the police.

FIVE BUSY PICKPOCKETS.

Scooped Down on a Museum and Robbed Twenty Persons.

Five pickpockets went to a museum at 341 Eighth avenue last evening and worked so industriously that more than twenty complaints were made at the office of the police between 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

Detectives Hay and Curry were summoned and arrested three men. They were William Skerret, twenty-two years old, of 51 West Nineteenth street; William Kuzinski, seventeen years old, of 215 East Third street; and Max Hoffman, seven years old, of 221 East Sixth street.

SPRING NEEDS.

What Everybody Requires at This Season.

Some Things Are of the Utmost Importance to You.

This Will Tell You Just What You Most Need Now and How to Get It.

In the spring changes always take place in our systems which require attention. There is a tired, languid feeling, the digestive organs become weakened, the blood is bad, causing the complexion to become sallow and the person feels an inability to work.

At such a time spring medicine is absolutely necessary. It will overcome all these conditions. It will invigorate the blood, regulate the digestive organs, clear the complexion and make you feel strong and well. The following letter written by Miss Nettie Fraser, of Paterson, N. J., will interest you.

"Since my childhood I have been extremely nervous, easily excited and at times suffering with extreme nervous prostration. A year ago last June I was so bad that the attacks were so frequent and so severe that I was unable to do any work. I was in a terrible condition. I also suffered with great mental depression."

"I was induced to try Dr. Green's Nervous Blood and Nerve Remedy, and the first bottle had a wonderful effect on my condition. After four bottles were used I was entirely cured. I never used any medicine that helped me so much, and I would recommend it in the highest terms possible, as too much cannot be said in praise of this wonderful medicine."

"You want health, don't you? You want to rest in the morning and feel like doing a day's work, do you not? Well, Dr. Green's Nervous Blood and Nerve Remedy will make you strong and well."

It is the best spring medicine known. It was discovered by Dr. Green, of 35 West 14th Street, New York City. The most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

THE MARCH GRAND JURY.

Its Members Sworn In by Recorder Smyth To-day.

The Grand Jury for the March term was sworn in by Recorder Smyth, to-day. In charging them he said there were 187 persons in the Toms, 124 of them having already been indicted.

The Recorder in referring to the suggestion of the February Grand Jury that Protective Societies lay their complaints before magistrates before they are taken up by the Grand Jury, said this would give the defendants an opportunity to meet their accusers and would not take the attention of the Grand Jury away from persons in actual custody.

Arthur T. Sullivan, merchant, of 329 Broadway, was selected as foreman. The other grand jurors were: John H. Bane, 130 East Fourth street; Thomas J. Brown, 130 East Fourth street; William J. Brown, 130 East Fourth street; and William J. Brown, 130 East Fourth street.
